GATeS Hosts Online Session on Indoor Care for Indian Aromatic Plants During Winter Season

In an effort to promote sustainable home gardening and help communities care for traditional Indian aromatic plants during the winter months, GATeS organized an informative online session. The webinar drew enthusiastic participation from plant lovers, home gardeners, and wellness advocates across the region.

With seasonal changes bringing lower temperatures and reduced sunlight, many households struggle to maintain aromatic plants to help with the interactive session, led by Prasanna Srinivasan and Vidya Titti covered a wide range of topics. Presenters discussed ideal indoor placement, the importance of ensuring sufficient light exposure, and how to create micro-environments that mimic the warm, humid conditions these plants naturally thrive in. Participants learned how to adjust watering schedules, select proper soil mixes, and use simple household techniques—such as pebble trays and humidity boosters—to prevent dryness.

Participants expressed appreciation for the practical nature of the session, with many sharing experience of their plants during the Q&A segment and receiving personalized guidance. The session reaffirmed GATeS commitment to education, community engagement, and promoting greener, healthier lifestyles.

Thank You All Volunteers and Speakers - Prasanna Srinivasan and Vidya Titti.

Greater Atlanta Telangana Society (GATeS) Serve Families in Need Through Sewa Diwali Food Drive

In a powerful demonstration of community service and collective responsibility, GATeS actively participated in Sewa Diwali Food Drive, contributing a significant quantity of food items to support families in need across the region. The annual drivesaw remarkable engagement from large-scale community groups—and GATeS emerged as one of the contributors.

GATeS delivered essential food items, canned vegetables, lentils, pasta, and cooking staples. Their contribution added meaningful support to Sewa Diwali's mission of ensuring no household goes hungry during the festive season.

Sewa Diwali coordinators also acknowledged the organization's contribution, highlighting donors like GATeS play an essential role in making the food drive one of the most impactful service projects in Atlanta.

With their successful participation, GATeS has set a example of social responsibility, reaffirming their commitment to service and community welfare. Their involvement serves as an inspiring reminder that when organizations and individuals unite for a purpose, they can create meaningful, lasting change.

Thank You to All Volunteers and Sponsors!
